BUSINESS AND POLITICS

At a meeting Saturday night in Oakland, Governor Hughes declared it was impossible to mix business and politics and succeed. This brief statement furnishes one of the strongest impeachments of the administration, which has vainly tried to whip the electors into line with loud bragging of economy and efficiency. The question of economy is shown by the recent financial budget which is ready for the signature of the president, calling for the expenditure of $1,700,000,000 in the course of the next fiscal year. Another sample is the inefficiency of the land department, as indicated by the announcement that six reservations in Nevada are to be closed out by the Interior department by placing the land on the market. These lands comprise 50,000 acres, in round numbers. Some of the land is good and susceptible of high improvement, while other sections are almost worthless. The buyer has little or no chance of acquiring information and has to take his chance in a lottery unless he assumes the cost of personally inspecting the grounds in question. A real estate firm with 50,000 acres to dispose of would not trust the sale to the chance of a few prospective settlers reading the notices in obscure administration organs. They would prefer to go out on the house tops and trumpet the value of their offerings so they would attract the best class of buyers. With the government this is deemed impracticable and the result is that the lands will probably find buyers at prices that will not pay for the cost of advertising the sale. In this connection it may seem strange that another branch of the Interior department is trying to spend $15,000 in the purchase of lands for Nevada Indians who are not already provided for on reservations. If the administration would only try to get these two branches of its department together it might succeed in making a trade that would redound to the profit of the government. But then, such a transaction would not probably bring about the best results in the way of shutting off the expenditure of the $15,000 with friends of the administration whom Secretary Franklin K. Lane would like to see encouraged, so long as a second term is in the balance.

REDUCTION OF TAXES

UNFORTUNATELY this statement does not apply to Nye county, which ranks as one of the few counties in the state which the taxes have not been reduced. White Pine county has reduced its tax rate from $2.16 to $1.26 per $100, or less than one third the rate to be levied in Nye county for 1916. That the people may not forget, the Bonanza reminds them that the tax rate for Tonopah this year is $4.01 and that this rate will stand unless the State Board of Equalization asserts its prerogative of compelling the local commissioners and the district attorney to accede to a revision of the figures. When the county board of White Pine county met last March it was agreed to reduce the tax rate 50 cents per hundred. Owing to the fact that the county has over $60,000 available for current expenses in various funds the commissioners of White Pine county go a step further by rebating the taxes to a point that almost staggers the credulity of Tonopah taxpayers. With the reduction to $1.26 the property owners of White Pine county receive the benefit of an 80 cent reduction in the past six months and the county is engaged in closing contracts for the purchase of a $10,000 road building machine. If Tonopah taxpayers want some further light on the proper management of county affairs by a board of business men they are invited to absorb the following facts, which seem like a dream: Two years ago White Pine county had a floating indebtedness of $52,000, which has been paid off and the county established on a permanent cash basis. This has been done notwithstanding White Pine county has over 1000 miles of road to keep in repair and the further fact that these roads are all in first class condition, with the prospect of making them still better by the addition of the new road building machine referred to above.

Since White Pine county can acquit itself so notably in the interest of taxpayers the question naturally arises why should not the commissioners and their legal adviser of Nye county render a better account of their stewardship.

TAKING THE BACK TRAIL

SECRETARY OF STATE LANSING has just finished a vacation of a month. He went on his first vacation just after the note from Carranza pointing out his failure to comprehend the plain language of a previous note from the First Chief. So far as success in American diplomacy is concerned it would seem as though the whole staff of the Department of State might go on a vacation on the first of every month without any impairment of efficiency as illustrated in this administration. The last bolt of the Carranza administration went home with telling effect when it demanded the immediate withdrawal of Pershing's command from Mexican soil as an antecedent to negotiations for a settlement of the border trouble. Pershing and his men are in Mexico with an order not to return without bringing Villa dead or alive to lay at the feet of the president in Washington. So far as reports go Mr. Villa is very much alive and the withdrawal of troops from over the border is an admission that there is no authority in international law for keeping them there unless they are engaged in a punitive expedition. Once more the flag has been hauled down from Mexican soil and the army joins hands with the navy in singing low whenever taunted with cowardice. The navy was sent to Vera Cruz with very positive orders to insist on Huerta saluting the flag. Huerta never saluted the flag and the navy came back empty handed. Wilson reconsidered his first orders and concluded he was overriding his authority in dictating the elections of another nation over which he did not seem to have much control.

MEXICO SILVER PRODUCTION

NO one looks for any serious increase in the production of silver due to improvements in Mexico much before 1918. Mines and smelters will not start until they are assured that there is more than a passing chance of dealing with an ephemeral and whimsical government. Capital is not going to venture into that country again until the situation is clarified to the extent of securing some assurance of protection and safety of life and property. Then the old employees will have some hesitation about returning to a section where the hazards are so great that they cannot feel like committing the fortunes of themselves and families. The succession of revolutions in Mexico impoverished those who had been in the southern republic and it is natural that both men and women will be reluctant about taking up the hopeless task of reconstruction. Then mines will have to be pumped out, machinery overhauled, supplies brought in and new buildings erected to replace those that were consumed by the incendiary torch.

The work of pacification is not as easy as some persons would have the country believe, for even the confidential advisers of President Wilson begged to be excused from the task of bringing order out of the saturnalia existing on the other side of the Rio Grande.

SCHOOLS FOR ALLIES STRONGLY ADVOCATED

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Greatly increased school facilities are to be provided this fall for the instruction of foreign born residents of the United States and especially for alien candidates for citizenship. During the last scholastic year the public school authorities of approximately 650 cities and towns in 44 states of the Union were co-operating with the Bureau of Naturalization of the U. S. Department of Labor in this branch of its educational activity. According to information thus far received by the bureau, nearly 100 others have signified their intention of joining in the movement and all indications now point to a most gratifying record for the 1916-17 school year.

It is the desire of the Bureau of Naturalization that public school night classes be installed whenever the need exists for the education and Americanization of foreigners. This field of operation of the public schools is not limited to those who have applied for naturalization. It is intended to include all foreign born residents whose instruction in English and civics would, beyond question, result not only in great personal benefit to themselves, but would be of signal advantage to the city in which they reside and, logically, to the nation as well.

That the cost of the establishment and maintenance of such schools is relatively small as compared with the great good accomplished is convincingly shown by reports received from the public school authorities who co-operated with the Bureau of Naturalization last year. With this in view, the bureau is urging the superintendents of schools all over the country to insert in their municipal budgets for next year an item providing funds

HUNDRED SHOTS FIRED ON BORDER

COLORED TROOPS FROM WASHINGTON RETURN ATTACK OF SNIPERS

(By Associated Press.)

NACO, ARIZ., August 21.—Over a hundred shots were exchanged across the international line about a mile west of here last night between patrols belonging to the colored militia troops from the District of Columbia and a party on the Mexican side. The militiamen say that they held some Mexicans who attempted to cross the line. In answer to the challenge the Mexicans fired. In the fusillade that followed the only casualty was the wounding of one of the Mexicans who had tried to cross. He is now a prisoner in the camp of the colored troops.
